

Institute of Education

Could you become an Early Years Teacher?

Early Years Teachers are key to raising the quality of early years provision to promote good outcomes for children. Early Years Teacher Status is awarded to those who can meet the Teachers' Standards (Early Years) at graduate level in working with children from birth to five and will lead practice within the Foundation Stage.

Interested?

For further information please contact the Early Years Teacher course administrators on

01905 542049/855533 or email: earlyyearsteacher@worc.ac.uk

Applicants will need to have achieved a first Degree, GCSE maths, science and English at grade C or above (or equivalent) and will need to pass the government's literacy and numeracy skills tests.